ON WITH THE SHOW!

The 2020 edition, now launching via live stream, will deliver a four-day online program stocked with over 240 films, for accredited ticket buyers to view virtually within the wake of coronavirus considerations.

Although impacted by the coronavirus pandemic, which has forced cancellation of the Garden State Film Festival’s annual event, we believe the opportunity to venture into a new digital frontier can serve as a blueprint for festivals worldwide and we look forward to bringing global film fans GSFF 2020 through online and virtual exposures. It promises to be a celebration of independent film that you can’t see anywhere else, all from the comfort of your home. Our top priority remains with the health and well-being of all those involved in this global event.

GSFF will be honoring official GSFF 2020 screening tickets in 2021, but will not include the black-tie awards dinner.

We gratefully thank all of our sponsors without whom, we could not exist. Special shout out to our presenting sponsor, The Journal along with our army of steadfast volunteers, Kristen Dirato and her crew, Board of Directors, supporters and legions of fans, along with Brookdale Community College, home of our new office. Their energy and dedication to the Garden State Film Festival is immeasurable and mind blowing!

This world-renowned event provides a platform for creativity and passion. I am intensely proud to play a role in this with you.

Leave your cares behind. Open your mind and enjoy what you are about to experience.

Rising Star | Ashley Platz

Central Jersey’s Ashley Platz grew up like all good Jersey girls, going down the shore and eating pork roll, egg and cheese sandwiches, which are hard to come by in Los Angeles where her acting career is taking off. She has appeared on “Grey’s Anatomy” on ABC, “GLOW” on Netflix, and she’ll soon be appearing on “The Bold Type” on Freeform playing a fun-loving, confident, queer, Jersey girl. Even though her career has her in Los Angeles full time, she comes back to the Garden State often for the pizza, the saltwater taffy and of course the Garden State Film Festival. We extend our sincere congratulations and a hearty Jersey fist pump to our Rising Star, Ashley Platz!
MVP | Nick Falcone

Nick Falcone served as Board Chair of the Garden State Film Festival and on the Programming Committee from 2009 to 2019. From Soledad O’Brien and Geeta Gandhri. This documentary is about a new America crisis: college students so strapped to pay tuition that they don’t have enough money to eat or to find a place to live. Far from a life of Ramen noodles and care packages from home, it is a life of suffering from having no food at all, eating at food pantries, or feeding off the trays of fellow students. It is the story of how colleges, once places for children of privilege, opened their doors to students of limited means but failed to provide enough financial aid to allow these new students to graduate without making painful choices. It questions what can and should be done about it.

The resolution of this increasingly dire situation will be the breaking point when her teacher assigns her to write a full-sized plane at a school competition. When Shawn's girlfriend leaves him for a genius, he embarks in a surreal journey into the memories he left with his family. Ruth Kiesling is not exactly living the dream. Ruth's only career, this film includes interviews with his frequent collaborator Samuel L. Jackson, Jamie Foxx, Bruce Dem and many more.

Focusing on the first 21 years of Quentin Tarantino's career, this film tells the story of his disappearance and brother and sister, his friends and his previous world. The Victoria Park Lantern Festival in downtown St. John's, Newfoundland, with hundreds of handmade lanterns each summer is a magical experience for all those who attend.

The film tracks the story of his disappearance and brother and sister, his friends and his previous world.
